

LONG ISLAND UNIVERSITY / C.W. POST
ENGAGES REISMAN, PEIREZ & REISMAN

The Firm is pleased to announce that in early 2007 it was selected by one of the major educational institutions in the New York area, Long Island University/C.W. Post, to be special counsel with regard to trademark and copyright issues.

"We are very proud to have been selected by this major University to represent it in this important and growing intellectual property area. We will be providing them with a wide range of services, including registration of its trademarks and copyrights with the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office, ongoing counseling and, where necessary, enforcement against any infringement or dilution of these important property rights."

The Firm has developed a clientele base in trademark and copyright law and includes Hofstra University among its other clientele.